

TooMuchFun Rubberstamps Copyright Policy

We appreciate your interest in Toomuchfun Rubberstamps! This page explains the details of our angel policy. Please understand that the conditions set forth in our policy are not meant to inhibit your creativity, but rather they exist as a necessity to protect our copyrights. If you need clarification of any part of this policy or have any further questions, please contact us.

Toomuchfun Rubberstamps' designs are meant for personal, non-commercial, non-business use. We do allow our designs to be incorporated into your original creation of cards or gifts for resale on a small-scale, local basis if they are hand-stamped. Permission is granted for use of our designs if the following conditions are met:

1. Each item must be hand-stamped. Mechanical, electronic, digital, or any other form of reproduction other than hand-stamping is not allowed. (This includes, but is not limited to, photocopying, scanning, printing, and downloading from our website.)
2. The back of each item must contain © Toomuchfun Rubberstamps. A small unmounted stamp for marking projects is provided upon request. (Please send a SASE.) Copyright notices may also be typed or handwritten.
3. Items must be sold locally only by an individual and not by a business. Items using Toomuchfun Rubberstamps' images may be sold at craft shows, church bazaars, etc. but may not be sold in stores or over the internet, left for consignment in stores, sold to other vendors, or sold as an ongoing business.
4. Items using Toomuchfun Rubberstamps' images may not be used in conjunction with an ongoing business or commercial venture. For example, images may not be stamped onto or used as a business's price or information tags or business cards, be used to hold a business's gift cards, be part of a logo, etc.
5. Items must be created in limited quantities. Any one stamp may not be used in more than 25 hand-stamped resale items per year. Mass production is not allowed.

Toomuchfun Rubberstamps maintains the copyright on all images. Our angel policy does not waive any of our rights under the copyrights.
